

Report of the Precept Training at Kirkintilloch Baptist 10 May 2018

Two Precept training workshops took place simultaneously on Saturday 10 May at Kirkintilloch Baptist Church. One was using the 40 Minute study entitled 'Ignite Your Passion for God' led by Reverend Michael Healy, and the other was an introduction to NISS 2 Timothy led by Nigel Watts.

There were 12 people who attended the 40 Minute training. Michael led them through most of Lesson 1 before splitting them into small groups.

Michael reported that it was good to see the 'lightbulb moments' as people made discoveries while studying the Word closely. One person said, 'I have read this all before but I have never seen the things that I have seen today.'

Other comments included, 'This introduction to Precept was very good. It is an exciting prospect to continue.'

'Refreshing and helpful. I enjoyed this study very much. I hope to be able to tell others about this course.'

'Very good. This opened my eyes to a lot of things. The training was excellent.'

'It has left me with lots to think about. This was a great workshop.'

'This was a very helpful approach to Bible study. Michael was a clear guide who helped me focus on the passage. I shall now complete the 6-week study and look forward to hearing details of the next event.'

'This was a good, well-paced workshop. Michael led the workshop well. It was worth attending.'

There were three people who wish to join a Precept class after this training who we shall follow up with.

There were 12 people who attended the NISS training. We did not quite complete all of Week 1 before we had to stop the training. Everyone was engaged with the study and got a lot out of it.

Comments received about the NISS training included. 'This was very helpful and in depth.'
